Dear Parents and Guardians:

As we head into the long weekend and a much-needed break, I would like to take a moment to reflect and send a thank you to our parent community. It was around this time last year that our world began to return to “normal”- one short year ago we were still masked, recognizing social distance, living together but separate hoping for change and longing to be able to see each other’s’ smiles.

Now we can. We have come full circle from the isolation caused by COVID, we are enjoying fellowship and togetherness once again. It is a joy.

We are also realizing each day the impact of what living together but separate has caused. Each day we are helping children overcome anxiety, social and emotional difficulties, and academic weaknesses caused by the limits we endured through the pandemic.

We realize that what we “always” did now does not “always” work, the way we instruct classes has needed to change, the sequences of our lessons have needed to change, how we help children understand and interact with one another has needed to change.

Amongst all of this need for change, we also have realized that some of our procedures need to change. To this end, we are forming committees to review our Student Code of Conduct and Behavioral Interventions for next school year. We are seeking a handful of parents and students to join us as we review our current practices, model policies and programs and our student/staff current needs. If you are interested in joining us in our discussions please email me directly. ssnyd@hollandschool.org

Thank you all for your patience, cooperation and support over the last year. It truly is appreciated.

Enjoy your weekend.

Sincerely,
